

Tippana Veera charishma

Backend developer, Freelancer, Youtuber

I have entered field of web development and have been building websites ever since. I love to be an imaginative, artistic, and always wanted to develop some customized ones. And these abilities can be seen in a web developer, so became fascinated with the web. Very passionate about web development and due to that passion and interest, started learning and working with languages like HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, JavaScript, Mysql, PHP. Apart from that, I was a YouTuber and FreeLancer. I'm a person who wanted to be a self-employed person.

ACHIEVEMENTS

Founder of Spendthrift

spendthrift is an online daily budget tracker. I have added many options in the spendthrift and successfully hosted it online and it is currently running on the internet . It is for people who don't know how to spend the money and where they have spent. then just do small work that is people have to register and login to spendthrift and experience the comfort regarding finances. Spendthrift gives you all data like when, where, what i.e; on which day is used is your money, where you have used it and what you did with the money you used to have. To get all these benefits then users have to just spend five minutes of time on spendthrift and add your day-to-day expenses.
